

WILL SOON BE THE HAWAII TERRITORY

SENATOR LODGE CONFIDENT OF ITS ANNEXATION.

By Christmas He Thinks—Majority In the Senate Favors the Idea—The Adoption of Some Form of Territorial Government of the Islands Is Likely

Boston, Oct. 6.—I look upon the annexation of the Hawaiian islands as practically accomplished, said Senator Lodge. "The treaty will be taken up at once when congress assembles in December, and I think there is an easy majority in the senate in favor of its ratification."

"It is settled that we do not care to admit Hawaii as a state in the union. Some form of territorial government must be adopted, but exactly what it should be is not yet wholly clear. I am inclined to think that we should give Hawaii a form of government rather broader than the ordinary territorial government. For example, I should give the islanders power to continue their legislative body in two branches, whereas, I believe a territory has merely a single house. A legislature in two houses will give them a government similar to our states, but they will not have the power to elect senators in congress. The system of federal courts must, of course, be extended to the islands, with direct and circuit judges. The local courts may be retained, as the people themselves desire."

SENATOR LODGE.

"You would have the governor appointed by the president?"

"Certainly; precisely as the governors of the territories are appointed. I should prefer, if I were to express a preference, that the governor be appointed from the islands. The question of suffrage should be left to the government of the islands to adjust as seems to it best, within the limits set by the constitution of the United States beyond which no state or territory can go. Before Christmas I certainly expect that Hawaii will be American territory."

Washington, Oct. 6.—The October term of the United States supreme court will begin next Monday. There are now 466 cases on the docket, as against 616 at the beginning of the October term in 1896.

Of the cases coming over from the last term some are of considerable importance, among them being the Nebraska maximum freight-rate case; the Southern Pacific Railroad company vs. the State of California, the disposition of which will determine the title to several hundred thousand acres of land; the Westinghouse air-brake case and the case of the interstate commerce commission vs. the Alabama Midland Railroad company, involving the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce law.

DROUGHT IS GENERAL.

Illinois and Adjacent States Suffer from a Water Famine.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 6.—United States Weather Observer Frankfield said yesterday that the present unprecedented drought extends all over the country. He added: "Speaking from this station, the states of Illinois, Missouri, Indiana, Kansas, Nebraska and Arkansas are all in great need of wet weather. Iowa has had more rain than some of the surrounding states, but is now almost as bad as they. Missouri and Illinois are suffering the most, particularly the southern portion of Illinois and central Missouri. There is yet no indication of rain."

Reports from these states say that the ground is too dry for fall plowing, and all the country roads are from two to four inches in dust. A white film covers all the land. The ripening corn hangs dull and apparently lifeless in the heat of a summer sun and everything is parched. In many sections of Missouri the cisterns have gone dry, and the danger of fire in the small cities and towns is imminent. The Mississippi and Missouri rivers have not been so low in ten years.

QUIET AT EDWARDSVILLE.

The Expected Trouble Is Averted and the Troops Are Not Called Out.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 6.—Lieutenant-Governor Northcott Tuesday morning received a message from B. B. Ray, who had been sent to Edwardsville to report on the mining situation there, stating that though no miners went to work about 100 strikers were congregated around the mines, and that while no trouble was imminent precautionary measures would not be amiss. Trouble might ensue if the miners attempted to resume work. Lieutenant-Governor Northcott wired the captains of company D of Belleville and I of Vandalia of the Fourth infantry to dismiss their commands for the present. No troops will be ordered out unless absolutely necessary, but sufficient companies will be kept in readiness to put down any attempted trouble.

Expect Silver Concessions.

New York, Oct. 6.—A special cablegram from London to the Evening Post says: "There is increasing interest in the city and some concern as to the probable nature of Sir Michael Hicks-Beach's reply to the United States bi-metallic commission as to the use of silver. Some persons go so far as to assert that, subject to certain conditions, three points may be conceded—namely, a reopening of the Indian mints, the holding of one-fifth silver in the Bank of England reserve, and the raising of legal tender silver from £2 to £5. Such assertions may be premature and even incorrect, but they come from too good a quarter to be wholly ignored."

Meeting of Insurance Orders.

Port Huron, Mich., Oct. 7.—Representatives of many fraternal and insurance orders of the United States and Canada to the number of 150 assembled here Tuesday in the eleventh national fraternal congress. The proceedings of the congress are purely advisory, but all the associations represented have what they consider a common enemy in the old line insurance companies. The report of the secretary-treasurer showed receipts during the year of $4,000; disbursements, $2,430, and balance on hand, $1,584.

SEVERAL WORKMEN CRUSHED IN RUINS.

STORM'S FATAL WORK AT CHARLEVOIX, MICH.

Is Caused By Carelessness—Three Men Killed and Nine Injured by the Falling of Hotel Lindsay, in Course of Construction at Lindsay Park—Death List May Increase.

Charlevoix, Mich., Oct. 6.—The new Hotel Lindsay, which was being erected at Lindsay park, was demolished by a windstorm Tuesday at 2:30 o'clock. About forty men were working on the structure at the time and three bodies have been recovered. It is believed a number are still in the ruins. The dead are:

PIERCE KENDLE, Charlevoix.
GUY HAMILTON, Grand Rapids.
UNKNOWN MAN.

The injured are:
Charles Heintzleman.
James Gillette.
Cyrus Cain.

C. W. McNeill.
Willis Silsby.
John Curtis.
W. H. Phelps.
William Wood.
F. A. Smith.

The last four are from Charlevoix. The places of residence of the other workmen are not known. Four others also were badly injured, but they managed to drag themselves away. Some of the men in the list of injured, it is thought, will die.

The Lindsay hotel was being erected by local business men and should have been completed next spring in time for the early summer resort and tourist season.

The wind came from the lake. Dark clouds were seen all the morning and about noon a strong breeze sprang up. The workmen say that at this period the building began to sway and several huge scantlings were placed on alongside as braces. Then the work went on. The breeze developed into a fierce windstorm and a number of the men entered the building for shelter. Without warning the roof blew off and the walls fell. The roof seemed to rise several feet, and the whole structure careened and crashed to the ground. The roar could be heard a mile.

The workmen claim the building had a poor foundation and was not properly braced.

Ottumwa, Iowa, Oct. 6.—Seven thousand people from this part of the state saw Star Pointer and Joe Patchen go against their own records at the Williams mile track. The time by quarters of each horse is: Pointer, 0:30 1-2, 1:00 1-2, 1:30 1-2, 2:01 1-4; Patchen, 0:31, 1:00, 1:30 1-2, 2:04.

Will Act With Firmness—No Concessions Promised In Either Cuba Or the Philippines—Not Much Doubt But That Gen. Weyler Will Be Deposed From His Command.

Madrid, Oct. 6.—Senator Sagasta, the new premier, was the first visitor at the United States legation Tuesday morning. His interview with Minister Woodford was cordial, but absolute reserve is maintained as to what passed in the conversation.

Senator Moret, the minister for the colonies, it is semi-officially announced, has decided to apply as soon as possible all the measures which are comprised in the program of the liberals regarding the Antilles, including all that is necessary for the application of autonomy for Cuba in the form permitted by the circumstances.

It is reported here that Minister Woodford left at the foreign office Monday an official note from Secretary Sherman.

Premier Sagasta in an interview is quoted as saying that most important questions are before the cabinet ministers, who have a thorough knowledge of the financial position of Spain and possess accurate details of the war situation in Cuba and in the Philippine islands. The government, Senator Sagasta added, would carry out its political and military program with firmness and sagacity.

When the premier was questioned regarding the future of Capt.-Gen. Weyler he said he supposed Weyler would resign, adding that if he did not do so he would be recalled. In conclusion Senator Sagasta said that the most prompt action would be taken in the Philippine islands, where the situation, he explained, admitted of no delay.

Attorney Phalen immediately followed this announcement with a motion to take case away from the jury on the ground that the prosecution had failed to prove a corpus delicti, and had consequently not made out a case against the prisoner.

Judge Tuthill at once overruled the motion.

Court was then adjourned until this morning to give the state time to prepare for its rebutting testimony. Just after court convened Attorneys Phalen and Vincent, Arnold Luetgert, and the prisoner held a secret conference in an ante-room.

It was decided that Luetgert should not testify in his own behalf, and the announcement caused general disappointment.

BURGLAR GOT $100 AT THE JUNCTION

ENTERED MANY HOUSES IN

Starting Half a Mile North of the Village He Seems to Have Steered a Straight Course Through to Janesville—Dance in Town But Nobody Saw Him.

THE GAZETTE AGENCY, Mrs. E. D. COON, Manager, Milton Junction, Oct. 5, 1897.

The town had quite an experience with a burglar, Friday night. He must have been coming from the north as the first house he entered was that of E. Frink, a half mile north of town. It is thought he entered the house while Mr. Frink was in the barn. The two women in the house went to bed before Mr. Frink came in, and Mrs. Frink heard a noise, but thought it was the dog; but soon she saw the flash of a light, and jumped out of bed and found things scattered, and twelve dollars and other valuable articles missing. This was before ten o'clock. Mr. Frink having locked the doors when he came in, the burglar found himself shut in, but managed to pull two nails from the parlor window, and escaped. He also stopped at the Jones place, north of town, occupied by Mr. Stockman. Then he went to Stephen Kern's home, south of the track, which he entered, and stole the linens, and got all the money, a gold watch and other valuables. He also entered Morris Crandall's house, and succeeded in getting in all between $70 and $100 worth of stuff. A single burglar who is believed to have been the same man tried to enter the houses of George Chapman, James Campion and H. H. Stockman near the creamery at the Spaulding forks but got nothing. Mrs. Sarah Hinkley, Miss Olive Hinkley, L. P. Hinkley, Mrs. E. D. Coon, Fay Coon, Fred Osborne and Winnie Richardson attended the I. O. G. T. district convention at Edgerton Thursday and Friday.

Y., is visiting in town this week. There was a dance in town Friday night. Burglars and dancers seem to select the same night to disturb people's slumbers. George Thorpe is building a fine residence on his farm south of town. Mrs. Hutchinson, of Sioux City, Iowa, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hart. Stephens gave him a rousing pound party, Saturday night. Mrs. A. B. Stillman and two children, of Norton, Kansas, spent Saturday and Sunday in town on their way to her old home at Utica, for an extended visit. BELOIT HAD BIG MARKET DAY

Talk of Reviving the County Fair Heard Among Business Men

Beloit, Wis., Oct. 6.—Tuesday was Market day in this city and was marked by a crowd of visitors and exhibitors. The number of exhibits reminds one of the county fairs that were run so successfully in this city some time ago, and which will probably be renewed next year should Janesville fail to provide an opportunity for the farmers and others to exhibit the products of their farm, stock and their skill. Hon. Clinton Babbitt was marshal of the day, with Frank Hannaba as assistant.

The college faculty changed the hour of chapel to 4 o'clock in order that the foot ball team could practice after that service instead of after dinner. The boys are greatly elated over the change.

An expert in sewerage matters is going over the city with a view of drawing plans for the proposed sewerage system that will be put in here shortly.

HAD MUCH TO START ON

Irish Attorney Offers a Contribution to a Lecture on Transmigration of Souls.

An Irish attorney attended a lecture on theosophy recently and was quite perplexed by many of the statements made by the lecturer. Among the numerous offerings of the gentleman was the basic declaration that the soul of every human being was returned again to worldly existence either in human form or as one of the lower animals. The attorney arose and in a solemn voice asked the lecturer when such a condition as this originated. The lecturer promptly answered:

"From the beginning of earthly habitation."

"If that is so said the son of Erin. 'Did it ever occur to you then that they must have had a good stock on hand at the beginning?'"

THE BUTTER MARKET STRONG

Continued Dry Weather Cutting Down the Milk Supply

At the Elgin butter market this week there was no change in the price for standard creamery butter. It remained at 22 cents wholesale.

In view of the drouth higher figures were expected as the milk is reported to have fallen from 15 to 25 per cent. in the last two weeks. However, the warm weather has deterred shipping to consuming markets and for this reason the demand was somewhat curtailed. Unless the drouth is broken much higher prices are expected next week. Creamery butter last year at this time was 16 1/2 cents per pound wholesale.

Local creamery men say that there has been a very heavy reduction in the quantities of milk delivered at the creameries. Nearly every dairy is compelled to feed its cows, there being absolutely no pasture.

WAS BURDICK TO BLAME?

Both Crews Connected With Cut-Off Wreck Are Examined.

The wreck on the Evansville cut off crevice is being investigated in Chicago. Engineer John Baker and his crew have given testimony while Engineer Burdick and crew were examined in Baraboo. It is said that Engineer Burdick did not have his engine under control when he struck the "yard limits" where the local switch engine had right of way.

FOUND IOWA CROPS SHORT

George Kaylor Returns Home From Extended Tour of Iowa

George Kaylor is home from northern Iowa where he spent the last two weeks as engineer of a threshing outfit. Grain crops are not as bulky in Iowa this year, he says, as they have been pictured. Oats will thresh out about twenty-five bushels to the acre, he says. Fax was raised extensively this year and would average about ten bushels to the acre.

COAL WAR ON IN LACROSSE

Price Goes Down, White in Milwaukee It Goes Up.

While coal goes up in Milwaukee, it goes down in La Crosse. A cut of fifty cents from $8.50 to $8 has already been made, and other reductions are promised, as no dealer seems willing to give in or let up since the fight has been started, and they all declare that they will see it through to a finish.

REAL OYSTER WAR RAGING

Bivalves Sell Now At the Lowest Prices This Season.

An oyster war is on in this city. A west side restaurant man has set the price of the best bulk meats at 30 cents which is a cut of ten cents. "Salots" are now retailing at 35 cent's a can instead of 45 cents as last winter.

SAYS ENGINE SPARK SET FIRE TO FIELD

A. HAYNER SAW STONE QUARRY BLAZE START.

Passenger Train Came Along As He Was Passing the Field and a Hot Cinder Fell In the Grass—Section Men Are Burning the Right of Way.

Albert Hayner who resides in the town of Rock beyond the stone quarry that was burned over Monday says he saw the fire start. The flames swept over Stark's stone quarry and one hundred acres beyond including many rods of fence and a twenty ton stack of hay owned by Robert Morris of this city. Mr. Hayner says it started from a spark blown from an engine on a passenger train that passed him. He was driving a spirited horse at the time and was unable to stop and put out the fire.

The country is exceedingly dry, weeds and grass are apparently lifeless and burn as easily as tinder, and section hands have been busy all week burning aways along the right of way from M. M. Phelps farm toward Atton. The wind has been favorably blowing the smoke away from farm buildings along the track towards the river.

OFFICIAL'S TIMELY WARNING

Mayor Thoroughgood Cautions Citizens To Be Careful of Fires These Days.

Mayor John Thoroughgood believes in "locking the stable door in time." After reading the drought story in The Gazette last evening, he went home and wrote a very sensible proclamation of the subject of dry weather and fires, which is appended:

"The great drought that is upon us and upon the country at large, and the destructive fires that are occurring all around us, assure me I have a public duty to perform in earnestly calling your attention to the danger of the situation.

Whole villages have been wiped out by fire in the last few days, and if we are to escape a like calamity, let us exercise the utmost vigilance and refrain from lighting fires for any purpose outside our houses until the danger is passed.

To this end I call on all good citizens to be watchful of children and to see that they do not have in their possession the means by which fires may be thoughtlessly started and I call upon all persons who smoke on the street to exercise great care in the disposition of the fire they use. A fire during this dry time by getting control of our fire department might at one swoop cause a calamity that would destroy our homes and business places, and we would not know where it would end. I am sure after this reminder that every good citizen will see the necessity of giving heed to this timely admonition for the safety of our city and perhaps our lives. I am, Respectfully yours,
J. THOROUGHGOOD, Mayor.

STUDENTS PUT UP A FORFEIT

New Rule Made Regarding Boarding Clubs in Beloit This Year.

Students at Beloit college do not find it easy to jump their board bills this year. Complaints have come to the faculty from merchants that students who operated boarding clubs frequently left several bills unsettled with them. They could not attach any property of these students, as they had no property, and consequently they lost money.

A rule is now in effect which requires every student who operates a boarding house to deposit with the faculty a guarantee fund which will cover all bills due. Each boarder is required to pay into this fund the price of a week's board, which he may withdraw when he quits the club. In this way the merchants are protected against bad creditors.

SKINNER WINS MANY PRAISES

As Prince Rudolph He Charmed Janesville's Theater Loving Public.

It is seldom that the Janesville theater loving public has as great a treat as was served up in five acts last night at the Myers grand opera house by Otis Skinner in his charming little romance, Prince Rudolph. The man and the play are admirably suited one to the other. Otis Skinner in his role of Rudolph William, Prince Kronefeld, is afforded an admirable opportunity to display those qualities of chivalry, honor and other essentials of complete manhood which to him seems to be second nature. He not only amuses but appeals to the best in the human heart.

The play is founded upon the theme of one of Robert Stevenson's stories, and in its dramatization the author has wisely retained the most charming characteristic of Stevenson's stories. The stage setting and the costumes were artistic to an extreme. The support rendered Mr. Skinner was on the whole excellent. There were one or two weak spots in his company which in view of the general high character of the entertainment, afforded last evening, it would hardly be fair to specify.

The audience was large and displayed well bred enthusiasm.

BLACK DIAMONDS ADVANCED

Wholesale Coal Higher at Milwaukee—Will Cost Still More This Fall.

For some time past demoralization has ruled in the anthracite market at western distributing centers. This was due to the independent action of one eastern firm which made an open cut claiming that there had been current for some time secret prices much below the advertised figures.

Of late the matter has been given the serious attention of the large eastern mining companies and yesterday their representatives were in conference with western agents. It was practically decided at Milwaukee to restore the price to $6 wholesale and a program outlined which will advance it 25 cents a ton at a time, beginning with the first cold snap, until it reaches about $7.

DANGER IN SODA.

Serious Results Sometimes Follow Its Excessive Use.

Common soda is alright in its place and indispensable in the kitchen and for cooking and washing purposes, but it never was intended for medicine, and people who use it as such will some day regret it.

We refer to the common use of soda to relieve heartburn or sour stomach, a habit which thousands of people practice almost daily, and one which is fraught with danger; moreover the soda only gives temporary relief and in the end the stomach trouble gets worse and worse.

The soda acts as a mechanical irritant to the walls of the stomach, and bowels and cases on record where it accumulated in the intestines, causing death by inflammation or peritonitis.

Dr. Harlandson recommends as the safest and surest cure for sour stomach (acid dyspepsia) an excellent preparation sold by druggists, under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. These tablets are large 20 grain lozenges, very pleasant to taste and contain the natural acids, pepsines and digestive elements essential to good digestion, and when taken after meals they digest the food perfectly and promptly before it has time to ferment and poison the blood and nervous system.

Dr. Wuerth states that he invariably uses Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in all cases of stomach derangements and finds them a certain cure, not only for sour stomach, but by promptly digesting the food they create a healthy appetite, increase flesh and strengthen the action of the heart and liver. They are not a cathartic, but intended only for stomach diseases and weakness and will be found reliable in any stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach. All druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at 50cts. per package.

FAIRFIELD AWAKENED BY FIRE.

The McFarlane Blaze Called Three Hundred People To The Scene.

Fairfield, Oct. 5.—Early Sunday evening a terrible fire broke out on the farm of Mrs. George McFarlane in the town of Richmond, three miles north of this village, and in a short time six thousand dollars worth of property was destroyed, consisting of two large barns and several smaller buildings, a wind mill, besides hay, grain and farming tools. By almost a miracle the residence was saved. The household goods were all removed. People were attracted by the brilliant flames that lighted the sky for miles around and in a short time from three to four hundred gathered to render assistance. All realized the danger of the fire spreading to other property as the long by growth has caused everything to

MANGLED BEYOND RECOGNITION

Frightful Death of Patrick Moran, a Brakeman at Milton.

THE GAZETTE AGENCY
W. W. CLARKE, Manager.
Milton, Wis., Oct. 6, 1897.

This village was again the scene of a fatal accident on the railroad Monday afternoon. Patrick Moran, a brakeman on Conductor John Keyes train was instantly killed and mangled beyond recognition as his train was coming into this station. A coroner's jury was immediately empaneled by Justice H. H. Stillman, composed of W. H. Weaver, E. F. Davis, H. F. Smith, I. O. Granger, G. O. Reynolds and E. F. Weigle. The evidence submitted showed that Moran stood on a newly painted "fanger" car in the middle of the train and gave the signal to the head brakeman to "go ahead." Before the engineer had responded to the signal or given any forward movement to the train, Moran fell between the cars, twelve or fifteen of which passed over his body.

On Monday afternoon Deacon Lucius Bingham and wife celebrated the fifteenth anniversary of their marriage at their pleasant home in this village, surrounded by relatives and friends, who notified the bride and groom that morning that the event was to be commemorated. Deacon Bingham was born in that "land of steady habits," Connecticut, in 1814 and is one of the pioneers of Wisconsin, coming to Rock county in 1839 and soon after settling on a farm in Harmony where he lived until 1887 when he built a fine house in this village and has since resided here. He married his present wife, Harriet J. Leonard, at Johnston, October 4, 1847, she being a native of New York state and now in her seventy-seventh year. Despite their advanced age Mr. and Mrs. Bingham enjoy a good degree of health and their mental vigor is but little impaired by their weight of years. Rev. J. O. Steele, pastor of the Johnstown Free Will Baptist church of which Mr. and Mrs. Bingham are honored members in well chosen words presented to the bride and groom a golden testimonial from friends as a token of love and esteem and Mrs. David Walsh recited a poem appropriate to the occasion. Refreshments were served and the event was enjoyable for all who participated therein. Among those present were Messrs. and Mesdames J. B. Tracy, E. L. Cary, J. S. Steele, Warner Hadley, F. E. Osborn, W. H. Newton, William Bishop, C. A. Rice, Dexter Gray, James Pierce, E. L. Bingham, H. S. Gould, S. C. Abbott, B. M. Taft, R. S. Howard, E. S. Babcock, Mesdames Mary H. Ormsby, F. B. Cook, A. J. Wood, J. E. Davidson, H. A. Johnson, A. P. Price, A. Gray, C. M. Leonard, W. H. Gray, O. V. Cutting, P. A. Brotherton, Mary Kimble, Miss Persels and Louis Lovelace.

There was a strong wind blowing at the time and that undoubtedly caused him to lose his balance.

The witnesses sworn were John Keyes, conductor; T. O. George engineer; R. Rochford and J. Colin, brakemen; James Trimble of Whitewater, and Dr. J. H. Burdick.

The body was mangled horribly, the head and shoulders being severed from the trunk, the trunk divided in the center lengthwise and the left leg cut off above the knee.

The deceased lived at Madison and leaves a wife and two children. The remains were sent to that city.

Mrs. L. G. Crosby has returned to her home at Minneapolis, where Mr. Crosby has resumed his medical studies.

Mr. Sherman of Waukesha, was a guest of B. F. Hudson, this week.

Surprise on Magnolia Woodmen.

Saturday evening the ladies of Magnolia and vicinity gave the members of the Woodman lodge a surprise. After the lodge began, the ladies assembled at Mrs. Hannah McCoy's, with baskets of provisions. At 9 o'clock, Dell Townsend came down and conducted them to the lodge room. As the first of the procession entered, the cry was given, "Intruders in camp! Foresters, do your duty!" At the command, the Foresters made an advance, with uplifted axes, but by that time the ladies were in full possession, and the gentlemen had to admit that for once the women were successful in keeping a secret. A Townsend made some very appropriate remarks, after which there was music. The tables were then spread with all the good things possible. The members of the lodge bought a barrel of apples and treated the crowd. It was estimated that there were about 200 present, and everyone had a jolly time.

NEW C. & N.W. TICKET OFFICE

Marked Improvement in the Accommodation of Travelers in Chicago.

Chicago has long been noted for being the greatest railroad center in the world. It has been conspicuous not only for having the largest number of lines running into it of any other city in the world and the greatest number of trains arriving and departing daily, but for having some of the largest, most commodious and elegant passenger stations in the world. Now it has taken another step in advance, and can boast today of having the most elegant and in every way the best city ticket office in the world. Two or three months ago the Chicago & North-western Road moved its city ticket office from 203 Clark street to larger and more commodious quarters two doors south on the same thoroughfare, 212 Clark street. No sooner had it taken possession of its new quarters than it began a process of renovation, redecorating and furnishing them new. That work has been proceeding steadily since, until now it has been carried to completion. The road finds itself in possession of what is without controversy the most elegant and complete ticket office.

The new offices are on the northwest corner of Clark and Adams streets and can be entered from either street, though the general entrance is from Clark street.

Every counter, desk, ticket case, chair, table, partition, railing and other piece of furniture in the whole office is of solid mahogany, all being uniform in tint and shade. Even the windows are hung with folding mahogany blinds of the same shade as the furniture. The counters, partitions and railings have a skirting one foot in width of variegated marble of a very beautiful type, which serves to heighten the general effect materially.

There is counter space in the office for about twenty ticket purchasers at the same moment.

Behind the counter are the ticket desks and cases. The general ticket case is unusually large. It has space for 650 different forms of coupon tickets, besides space for local tickets to 180 different points on the company's lines. Immediately to the left of this general ticket case is another known as the sleeping car ticket case. It contains diagrams of the nineteen through sleeping cars which leave daily over the Northwestern line for the Pacific coast and other points in the north and northwest. At the farther end of the ticket counters are enclosed apartments for the ticket clerks and passenger agents. There are also telephone rooms, containing public and private telephones. The upper portions of the partitions of the various apartments are of beveled chipped glass, the beauty of which adds to the general effect.

Returning to the latter, in the rear of the passage are additional spaces for the passenger agents of the road, and in the rear of these is the private office of the city passenger and the ticket agent, furnished and finished in the same way as the other offices. One feature of these offices is an entirely new departure in the way of city ticket offices. In the rear of the city passenger and ticket agent's private office a large and commodious room has been reserved for the use of outside patrons of the Northwestern Road who may be visiting Chicago. It is fitted up as a reading room and around the walls are hung files of the leading newspapers of all the important towns on the Northwestern system. This room is also furnished with writing tables, stationery, and little conveniences which had to the comfort and enjoyment of the visitors. To this room all patrons of the road will always find a cordial welcome, and they will have an opportunity of consulting a greater number of outside papers than is to be found elsewhere. Adjoining the reading room are handsomely furnished toilet rooms which go to render the entire arrangement complete. In fact, ingenuity and thoughtfulness seem to have been exhausted in the arrangement and furnishings of these offices.

NO COMPLAINTS HEARD

Nobody who voted for McKinley has been heard to complain during the last sixty days of the result of that vote. Since the enactment of the protective tariff which the election of McKinley assured, manufacturers have resumed on full time and increased wages in many cases, business houses report their sales larger than in any year since McKinley times, and the only complaint which the banks have to offer is that they cannot find enough customers for the money which they have to loan. This is in marked contrast with the conditions in the corresponding period of the Cleveland administration, when banks were breaking, business houses closing, and manufacturers reducing forces or suspending operations all together.

THEY WANT OUR TRADE

Nothing further is heard about that proposed retaliatory legislation in Argentina with reference to the United States and her imports into that country. Nor is there any realization of the great commercial troubles between the United States and other foreign countries which the free-traders were protecting as a result of the new tariff. Sixty days have passed since it went into operation, and nothing has happened to prevent the steady inflow and outflow of commerce between the two nations. The fact that the United States proves the best market with most of these foreign countries will prevent their taking any action which would disturb their own business relations or reduce the market which their people have in the United States for their productions.

Genuine Havana tobacco grown in this country, is one of the results of the Cuban war. The only Cuban product that doesn't find United States soil congenial is the trocha.

As long as Rock county grass butter sold for 14 cents a pound, there was not much show for the butterine trade. The drought has shifted the advantage from the farmer to the packing house.

FOR SWEET CHARITY'S SAKE

Oak Lawn Hospital Benefit Tonight Worth the Warmest Support

Charitably inclined people will have their share at the rink building on South River street tonight. The ball which is to be given is a benefit for the Oak Lawn hospital, one of the worthiest of the city's institutions. The entire receipts will go to the hospital as everything, use of building, the music and other talent, has been donated.

Many of the leading business men of the city have taken a hold of the affair and are working for its success with all their energy.

A committee on decoration has been busy all day and as a result of their labor the old building looks as it did in the palmiest of polo days, with this exception, however, that the floor instead of being chalked has been waxed after being thoroughly cleaned. The price of tickets has been placed at the low figure of 25 cents. They can be obtained at the door or at any of the stores this afternoon or evening. Those in charge invite all to be present but if they cannot come they would be just as thankful for the quarter.

The management has been fortunate in securing as one of the entertainers Col. E. O. Kimberley, who will sing, the Y. M. C. A. band will furnish the music and speeches will be made by Mayor John Thoroughgood, Stanley B. Smith and others. Mr. Smith will talk on his hospital experiences after the first battle of Bull Run.

Attention O. E. S.

A special passenger coach will be attached to the 6:35 freight on the Chicago & Northwestern road going north Thursday evening for the benefit of the members of the Order of the Eastern Star who desire to go to Evansville. On returning the same coach will be attached to the train, which reaches Janesville about midnight.

Green Bay, Wis., Oct. 6.—[Special]—R. C. Roberts, a traveling man hailing from Racine, tried hard to kill himself at the Beaumont house here last evening. He fired three shots into his body. The most serious wound was from a bullet in his forehead which did not touch his brain. The attending physicians say that he may recover. He was in a depressed mental state resulting from a law suit in which he is involved. His wife arrived from Racine this morning and will attend him.

FIGURING ON A NEW LOCATION

Wisconsin Carriage Top Company to Investigate LaCrosse Proposition
William Morris and Fred Van der Water, both interested in the Wisconsin Carriage Top Co., leave tomorrow for LaCrosse to investigate the proposition made by the business men of that city with a view of securing the Wisconsin Carriage Top Co. plant to locate in that city. It will be remembered that several weeks ago the Gazette printed the fact that LaCrosse was after this enterprise and had made an offer of a plant and a certain amount of subscriptions to a capital stock.
Mr. Morris when seen by a Gazette reporter today stated that it would be no disadvantage to the company to move to La Crosse as its trade in this section is so well established with agents and dealers that it could be easily handled from the new location, whereas, the territory in which it has under consideration is susceptible of important developments. Railroad facilities at La Crosse he says, would be excellent for the company's business.

TRAMPS ARE HEADED SOUTH

Janesville Just Now Afflicted With Hobos Seeking Warmer Climes.

Chief Hogan and Officer Appleby made a round up of tramps in the railroad yards last evening securing eight of the genus hobo.

On assurance that they would board the midnight north bound freight they were allowed to depart.

Chief Hogan says that tramps are moving southward in consequence of approaching cold weather and for that reason there are more than the usual number in this vicinity.

Ole Oleson, a six-foot native born Norwegian, arrived in town at 9 o'clock this morning, claiming that he had walked from Caledonia, Ill. He appeared to have a vein of humor in his make-up as he told the police that he preferred walking, as he could get a good view of the scenery and incidentally have a better chance for obtaining work. He did not appear to be looking very hard for work, and Chief Hogan told him that the scenery north of town was magnificent at this season, and suggested that he continue his viewing. He continued.

JOSEPH DOLLISTER RIDES FAST

Joseph Dollister, the Burlington bicycle rider, who captured a share of the prizes at the meet given in this city on September 2, at Racine this week rode twenty-five miles unspaced flying start, and came within 7-25 seconds of world's amateur record, for that distance. His time and the world's record time are as follows: 25 miles, 1:04:27 2-5; 1:04:30.

Dollister, it is said, hardly felt the effects of his long ride and finished very fresh.

FAST TO HYMEN'S BONDS

Spears-Adams.

A wedding of interest to Rock county people is mentioned in the Parkersburg (Iowa) Eclipse as follows: The home of Mr. and Mrs. Adams, about four miles south of Parkersburg, was the center of attraction to a large host of invited guests last Tuesday evening, Sept. 28, 1897 to witness the wedding of their most estimable daughter, Miss Jessie May Adams, to Budd W. Spears. At eight o'clock, Miss Filer, from the piano, sounded the bugle notes of the wedding march, when the little Misses Mabel and Hazel Truesdell preceded the bride and groom, untied knots of white ribbons which opened the gateway to the nuptial altar. The bride and groom stood under a beautiful arch of drapery decorated with a lovely vine, the gift of Mrs. Taft of Grundy Center, where Rev. Walter Piper spoke the words that made them one. After the congratulations all were invited to sit down to an excellent repast. The evening was spent in a happy manner. About 10:30 the bride and groom left for Grundy Center where they took the train for Ashland, Ill. Here they will spend their honeymoon. The presents were numerous and lovely. This young couple, who have a host of friends, start in life together with bright prospects and showers of good wishes.

WILL MARK 50TH YEAR

Anniversary of Wisconsin Statehood Not to Be Neglected.

An effort will be made to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of Wisconsin's statehood in fitting fashion. The progress of half a century that has placed Wisconsin among her sister states should be commemorated, it is urged, and the recent general improvement in business conditions makes this pre-eminently the proper time for a renewal of the agitation, and the inauguration of active measures to insure the carrying out of such plans as seem best fitted to celebrate the event.

There is a wealth of historical events in Wisconsin's history that furnishes ample material for a celebration fitting in every way the occasion. So far as the matter of expense goes, it has long been settled that such a celebration is a paying investment in every way. It is not only in a financial sense that it pays, but in fostering state pride, in putting before the coming generation pictures of what has been done, and its educational features are all matters to be considered. It is in some sense a duty the present owes to both the past and the future.

IN THE CAUSE OF TEMPERANCE

The W. C. T. U. Holding Its District Annual Session Here Today.

The W. C. T. U. district convention is holding a annual meeting in this city at the residence of Mrs. E. E. Yates today. A large number of delegates are present. Mrs. Cora Dickenson, president of the society, is presiding. The other officers are Mrs. Ellis, of Harmony, secretary, and Mrs. E. E. Bates, treasurer.

Officers for the ensuing year are to be elected and work for the next twelve months planned. An aggressive campaign against rum is to be carried out.

Among the important business will in all probability be some action regarding a disposition of the society's building on the fair grounds. It will be remembered that a committee was appointed some time ago to make a report on this end.

One of the prominent members in a conversation with a Gazette man today said that quite a number favored a postponement of definite action on this subject until all chance of a redemption of the grounds was at an end.

The delegates will be served with a luncheon after the business meeting.

Among the Janesville business places closed in observance of the day were The Golden Eagle Clothing Store, The Leader, Cohn Bros. general store and John Soulmans cigar factory.

ODD FELLOWS CASE WON BY PLAINTIFF

VICTORY REGARDED AS SOMEWHAT DOUBTFUL.

Verdict For Plaintiff So Small That He Will Appeal—Defendant's Attorneys Look Upon It In The Light of Virtual Victory—Other Cases Adjourned to Dec. 7—Other Court Notes

After meditating for thirty minutes this morning the jury in the case of John U. Fulton as assignee of the Wisconsin Odd Fellows Mutual Life Insurance company vs. John Stockman, brought in a verdict in favor of the plaintiff.

Odd Fellows who have been anxiously awaiting the outcome of this test case consider it a victory on the ground that the jury made a strong compromise.

The total assessment sued for in this case was $45 68, the jury found for the plaintiff in the sum of $17.40. Local members consider it a victory and a number are willing to settle on this basis.

Soon after the jury filed into Justice Richardson's court and announced their verdict Assignee Fulton stated to a Gazette representative that he would appeal the case on the ground of the small award.

Attorney George Lines of Milwaukee, who carried on the prosecution stated this noon that the present indications were that they would appeal the case and that under no circumstances would any of the eighty-nine members be allowed to settle on this basis.

Attorney T. S. Nolan of Sutherland & Nolan, who appeared in behalf of the defendants, is well satisfied, in spite of the fact that the jury found for the plaintiff. In speaking of the case this morning Mr. Nolan said: "I think that I can safely state that we as defendants are satisfied with the verdict rendered, it being a substantial one for us. We do not at present contemplate an appeal."

The outcome of the action can do little more than establish a precedent. The prosecution is of course not bound in the remaining eighty eight cases by the judgment rendered today. Each one, unless disposed of in the mean time, can be cited for a separate jurisdiction.

These various actions have been adjourned to Dec. 7 by Justice Richardson. Assignee Fulton, Secretary Norton and Attorney Lines returned on the noon train to Milwaukee.

Henry Hammes who was tried last week on charge of stealing the Alfred Austin horse, in which case the jury disagreed will appear in the municipal court for a new trial tomorrow. It is probable that his case will be continued until next week.

Frank Hunt, the man at the jail with a broken jaw, who is held on a charge of burglarizing a St. Paul R. R. box car at Milton and whose trial is set for tomorrow at the municipal court is reported to be considerably better. On Sunday Dr. Whiting took a large piece of bone out of the prisoner's jaw and the latter is reported as considerably better. It is now thought that there will be no necessity of sending him to the hospital for an operation.

The Wixon-Shoemaker sheep case is dragging its weary length in along the municipal court. It was thought yesterday that today would finish the testimony. However, it was not until afternoon today that the defense began to examine the witnesses. There is now prospect that the case will take up the greater part of tomorrow. Those who have listened to the testimony for the plaintiff say that it is not materially different from that which was given at the previous trial. The procedure was very slow and careful.

The value of the sheep over which the controversy arose, is stated to be between eight and ten dollars, while the cost of the action, which will fall upon the party at interest who is defeated will be several hundred dollars.

MAY BE CHEAPER THAN WATER

A Savage Beer War Among Brewers Promised At Chicago.

Chicago is in the throes of a beer war. For some time past the price has been nominally $6 a barrel in that city, while some of the smaller brewers have been selling for $3. A conference was held to straighten out matters but very little that was satisfactory resulted, and there is a prospect that the price will be cut from about the average of $1.50 to $4; that from the latter figure it may go as low as $2, and as was the case in St. Louis a few years ago may possibly be given away. If radical measures are taken it will mean a battle between large and small concerns.

And yet there are no signs of the battle extending outside of the city of Chicago.

FINLEY WILL PAY HIS FINE

This Will Give Him Liberty After a Few Days in Jail

James Finley who has been in jail since last week where he was sent for sixty days in lieu of a payment of a fine of $50 and costs of $87.52, a total of $137.52, for assaulting D. B. Emerson made arrangements this afternoon to pay his fine and the costs of the action.

This will give Mr. Finley his liberty. Upon the completion of the trial last week it was currently reported that after the case was settled either by payment or serving sentence that an action would be begun by Mr. Emerson for personal damage.

BAD GROUND FIRE AT FELLOWS STATION

300 ACRES BURNED OVER YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

Spark Caught From Passing Train—Sixty Men Fought Flames and Saved Buildings—Hundred Rods of Fence, Standing Corn and Fifty Tons of Hay Burned.

The most serious ground fire that has occurred in this vicinity as a result of the long drought raged at Fellows station between this city and Evansville on the cut-off yesterday afternoon, starting at one o'clock. It is said that it caught from the sparks of a passing train. It spread rapidly through the dead grass during the afternoon burned over three hundred acres, reducing to ashes hundreds of rods of fence and fifty tons of hay, and seriously injuring considerable standing corn.

The farm of William Minch was the first to suffer. Later the farms of John Hopkins, Fred Keltz and Mrs. Bowles were burned over.

A crew of section men, about twenty in number, were called from Evansville by telegraph and thirty and forty farmers rallied to fight the flames. The combination force, by dint of the hardest kind of work, was able to keep the fire away from numerous farm buildings in its path.

All of the parties were completely exhausted last night as a result of their efforts.

Had the fire started in the night, it is probable that not only would the land have been burned over but that many buildings would have also been reduced to ashes.

Fire guards at all points in the county along the railroads in view of recent fire development have been doubled and are now doing duty day and night.

The matter is receiving the serious attention of railroad officials and where it can be done safely the dead grass and weeds along the track are being burned.

THEY HAVE MONEY TO LOAN

Place Funds At Interest Until Amount Is Larger

Twenty-four of the ladies of the Y. M. C. A. auxiliary held an exceedingly interesting and profitable session yesterday afternoon. Among the measures adopted was a decision to loan the funds now in the treasury, amounting to $50, at 5 per cent. interest, with a view of waiting until they had secured a larger fund before turning it over to the regular Y. M. C. A. organization.

It was decided to give an entertainment in the near future for the purpose of increasing the amount.

The organization is in a thrifty condition and the members are greatly encouraged regarding the outlook.

Thomas Malbon Escaped Mendota Patient Returned This Morning

Thomas Malbon was returned to Mendota asylum this morning by Turnkey Samuel Brown. It will be remembered that he was captured after being tracked eight miles through dusty country roads yesterday.

Malbon was sufficiently sane to express his regret at his recapture. It seems that he escaped last Sunday from the grounds in which he was allowed to roam.

It will cost you but twenty-five cents to dance or look on at the rink this evening. Remember that the money and all of it will go to the Oak Lawn hospital.

UNPAID BOARD BILL A SLEEP DISTURBER

A. M. MARTIN TAKEN FROM BED AND LODGED IN JAIL.

Was Found at Hotel London, This City At Midnight—Wanted in Neenah to Settle a $32 Account—He Admits the Charge—Taken Back This Morning.

A. M. Martin in company with H. C. Temple, both traveling artists arrived in this city yesterday afternoon and after sizing up the town put up at the hotel London. The duo course they obtained a room which it is said, was one of the best in the house, and dismissing earthly cares went to sleep.

Martin's rest, however, was destined to be short lived. Marshall Watts, of Neenah, put in an appearance in the evening, and securing the services of Officer John Brown started on a still hunt for Martin. He was located at the hotel aforesaid. The fact that Martin was wanted at Neenah to settle a $32 hotel bill caused Landlord Jones to point out with avidity his room to the officers. It took only a few moments to transfer Martin from his comfortable couch in the hotel to a cot in the jail.

Today he was placed on board a Chicago & Northwestern train bound for Neenah in charge of Marshall Watts. It is said that he has many troubles to straighten out, in addition to his board bill irregularity. He admitted the debt specified.

His partner, H. C. Temple, having satisfied the landlord that he had the price, was allowed to finish his sleep.

WANT BETTER FACILITIES

Farmers Hauling Grain Here Lose Much Time in Unloading.

The Gazette's attention is called to the fact that it would be well in agitating the question of an official grain buyer for Janesville, to consider better facilities for receiving grain.

There have been a number of complaints from farmers during the last few weeks, to the effect that they have been kept waiting hours for an opportunity to unload. Many of them equidistance from another grain center, prefer it to Janesville on this account. There have been large amounts of corn and smaller cereals brought in since the '97 crop matured.

ANTIDOTE FOR SNAKE POISON

Certain Cure for the Bites of Reptiles
Is a Last Discovery.

From the Chautauquan: It is very noteworthy that many nations, races and castes lowest in civilization have for a long time protected themselves against poisoning from snake bites by a method which never until the present time, the twentieth century, has been discovered by European scientists. The races of Psyller in Africa, Morser in Italy and Guner in India ages ago possessed a means to insure themselves against poisoning from snake bites, and today there are people who are not harmed by snake poison, if we may believe the descriptions of travelers. Such are the negroes on the Guinea coast, the race of Elsewer in Barbary, some fakirs and snake charmers in India, the inhabitants of Mazambique and some Kafirs in South Africa. The means used by all these people to secure immunity from snake venom consist in taking as medicine the venom, either fresh or dried, from the venom-glands of snakes. The majority eat the venom, but in Mozambique the same result is gained by inoculating with it. That these people really do make themselves proof against snake bites in this way seems to be sure beyond a doubt. Although this method was made known long ago in Europe by travelers, nobody seemed to take any notice of it until the experiments of Pasteur and his school had demonstrated the possibility of utilizing it. Then scholars began to study the effects on animals of feeding snake venom and of inoculating with it, and to convert into scientific capital the avowals of these fakirs, Kafirs, etc.

ART AND DOLLARS.

Que Painter Who Is True to His Ideals.

I have a friend whom I shall venture to call a "poor artist," for I know that he is poor, and gets his living, such as it is, by painting, says a writer in Scribner's. I cannot pretend to judge his work, but I have had ample proof that he is devoted, laborious, and will not sacrifice his convictions for gain or popularity. Perhaps he is not so singular in this, but what, as my experience goes, is a peculiarity of his is that he is not in the habit of cursing the "Philistines." His view seems to be that, as he paints to suit himself, it does not comport with his self-respect to blame people whom his painting does not suit for refusing to buy it or for being unable to understand it. My friend, is poor and is likely to remain so, but he appears really content with his work and his relative poverty. I confess that his attitude is a comfort to me, and that in his patience and modesty and generous fidelity to his ideal he is a model whom some other artists—perhaps artists generally—might study with advantage. He puts into his work the best he has to give and that, in substance, is what the great critics have insisted is the source of the greatest value in art. Of course a man's best, so far as concerns his talent, may be much or little, but whatever it is he will hardly get it into his work if he is thinking chiefly of the money return or if he is habitually resentful because he does not get the money return.

Certainly you don't want to suffer with dyspepsia, constipation, sick headache, sallow skin and loss of appetite. You have never tried DeWitt's Little Early Risers for these complaints or you would have been cured. They are small pills, but great regulators. C. D. Stevens.

RUSSIA'S GIFT TO ROYALTY.

The Vast Sums Paid to Grand Dukes and Duchesses.

The correspondent of the London Times at St. Petersburg has obtained from official sources some interesting facts as to the income of the Russian royal family. It appears that Emperor Paul I. set aside a vast amount of landed property under the name of the imperial appanages for the sole benefit of all grand dukes and grand duchesses not in the direct line of succession, while the sovereign and the heir apparent, together with their respective families, were to be supported out of the funds of the state. These appanages of the imperial family now cover the enormous total area in different parts of Russia of 21,000,000 acres. This includes 15,000,000 acres of wood and forest, producing yearly more than 5,000,000 rubles. The total annual revenue of the imperial appanages reaches 20,000,000 rubles and, with forty-six members of the imperial family to support, the expenditure at present amounts to a yearly average of more than 5,000,000 rubles. The appanages are distinct from extensive private property and from the crown or state domains, administered by the minister of agriculture, and they do not contribute toward the annual expenditure of the imperial court, amounting, as far as it can be ascertained, to about 15,000,000 rubles, nor toward providing dowries for imperial grand duchesses. Before the emancipation of the serfs, the appanages possessed 800,000 peasants, who paid annually in land and poll taxes for the benefit of the imperial family nearly 3,000,000 rubles. The department of imperial appanages has since become the largest land proprietor, the largest agriculturist, the largest wine-producer in the empire. Its industrial enterprises in timber, sugar, cotton and other products are growing on a proportionately large scale. During a century of existence it has furnished the collateral branches of the imperial house with altogether 236,000,000 rubles.

Small precautions often prevent great mischief. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are very small pills in size, but are most effective in preventing the most serious forms of liver and stomach trouble. They cure constipation and headache and regulate the bowels. C. D. Stevens.

Tar Heel's Tough Luck.

A North Carolina newspaper has this local item: "As Col. Williams was driving home yesterday lightning struck his wagon and completely demolished a four gallon demijohn of very fine whisky. The colonel has the sympathy of the community."—Atlanta Constitution.

Four-year-old Robbie ran breathlessly into the house, just as the sound of bagpipes was heard coming up the street. "Oh, mamma!" he said, "there's a man out here with a dead pig that stinks: come quick!"

No man or woman can enjoy life or accomplish much in this world while suffering from a torpid liver. DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the pills that clean that organ quickly. C. D. Stevens.

If the Baby Is Cutting Teeth—Be sure and use that old and well tried remedy Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

CANNING AND PRESERVING.

Mrs. Rorer Gives Timely Directions for Putting Up Fruit.

In the Ladies' Home Journal Mrs. S. T. Rorer writes on "Canning and Preserving." At the outset of her lesson she emphasizes the value of securing perfectly sound and fresh fruits, and the necessity of getting the cans and canning appliances in readiness in advance. "To prevent breakage when filling the jars," Mrs. Rorer advises that they be slipped "sidewise into a kettle of hot water, rolling them so that every part may be quickly and uniformly heated. Fold a damp towel, place it in the bottom of a pudding pan, then near the preserving kettle; stand a jar on the towel, and if the fruit is small adjust the funnel; fill quickly to overflowing. Run a heated silver knife around the inside of the jar, to break any air bubbles that may have been caught with the fruit, and adjust the rubber, then lift the lid from the hot water and place it at once. If large fruit fill with a wooden spoon, arranging the fruit so that the weight of one piece will not destroy the shape of another. Fill to overflowing with the liquid, water or syrup, and fasten tightly. After sealing stand the jars out of a draught over night. The glass by that time will have contracted, and the lids will, in consequence, be loose. Wipe each jar carefully, and give the top an extra turn. Put away in a cool, not cold, dark closet. At the end of a week examine each jar carefully, without shaking or disturbing more than necessary. If you find the lids slightly indented, the contents free from air bubbles or froth, and the liquid settled, you may rest assured 'they will keep.' If you do not find it so, open the jars to prevent bursting. Reheat the fruit, being careful to bring it to a boiling point and recan."

If you have ever seen a little child in a paroxysm of whooping cough, or if you have been annoyed by a constant tickle in the throat, you can appreciate the value of One Minute Cough Cure, which gives a quick relief. C. D. Stevens.

Moments are useless if trifled away; and they are dangerously wasted if consumed by delay in cases where One Minute Cough Cure would bring immediate relief. C. D. Stevens.

Shaping His Career.

"Why did I become a professional?" repeated the contortionist, musingly. "You see, my wife had picked out a flat, and I wanted to get in shape for it. After that, of course, it was a matter of habit."—New York Tribune.

The bicyclist's Best Friend" is a familiar name for De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve, always ready for emergencies. While a specific for piles, it also instantly relieves and cures cuts, bruises, salt rheum, eczema and all affections of the skin. It never fails. C. D. Stevens.

Purchase of Cuba in Contemplation.

There is a rumor afloat in official circles that, if true, is most important. This is nothing less than that this government is about to make overtures to Spain for the purchase of Cuba. However, this may be, it has long been known to the world at large that the value of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a remedy for constipation, malaria, dyspepsia, rheumatism, kidney complaint and nervousness is beyond all price. A vinegary before meals imparts a hearty relish for the food and a corresponding dose before retiring contributes to sound repose. No medicinal stimulant on the market ever received such strong professional endorsements as the Bitters. It is a most genial tonic, affording strength to all who use it. Not only in this country, but in many foreign lands, it is an admitted specific and preventive. As a safeguard against all disease of a malarial type, it is particularly valuable.

TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE.

Oh, many a vision I've cherished,
To brighten the days of my life,
Of a home amid roses embowered,
Of some one to greet me as wife,
But to have such a lover as you,
With a heart so devoted and tender,
Seems almost too good to be true.

I remember the times in my girlhood
I felt it my pride and my joy
To have your attendance at parties,
For you were the favorite boy.
And though there were handsomer maid-
ens,
And others much richer than I,
There was none of the group so heart-
broken,
When you left without saying goodby.

I heard of you then in the city,
And knew you were making a name,
Each day by the efforts of genius
Securing a permanent fame,
And I fancied you must have forgotten
The poor little girl you once knew,
And to have you come back as a suitor
Seems almost too good to be true.

I hoped to have cards to your wedding,
To the church and reception beside,
Where I might with tearful emotion
Congratulate you—no, the bride,
But to stand by your side at the altar
To be solemnly married to you—
It seems, when I think it all over,
As if 'twere too good to be true.

—Josephine Pollard in New York Ledger.

AN AWKWARD FIX.

"Do you think two girls ought to be born so exactly alike?" said Charlie Dacre, ruefully twisting up a cigarette.

The other man laughed.

"Are you talking of those two Dennison girls? They're not exactly alike."

"It's all very well for you, but I haven't your long sight, and I declare to you if I see either of them at a little distance or in a bad light I can't tell which is which. I am going to a party tonight given by the respected parents of my Dennison, and I positively dread it."

"Perhaps they play tricks on you," said Ballantyne. "One of them is rather skittish."

Charlie got himself up that night with extraordinary care, and as he was a good looking fellow he presented a rather striking appearance as he entered Mrs. Dennison's drawing room. He had been detained, so that most of the guests had arrived when he came, and his inamorata was nowhere to be seen. But shortly after he had paid his respects to the host and hostess the daughter of the house, prettily dressed in white and blue, came up. Dacre begged for a dance—two dances.

"I'm so sorry," said she, "but I've nothing vacant till the lancers. You're a little late, Mr. Dacre, you see," with a slight accent of reproach as she gave him her card. Charlie apologized in the humblest terms, and the girl bestowed a smile on him as she was led away.

Dacre went to seek her in good time for his lancers. She sat on an ottoman in a distant part of the room, where the drooping folds of a curtain formed a shade from the glare of the lights. The blue and white of her filmy gown stood out against the dark background. Dacre hastened across the room to her.

"Miss Dennison—my dance," he said eagerly. "May I?"

She turned her pretty face and arched her eyebrows in surprise.

"Yes," said Charlie, "the lancers—you promised—oh, I beg your pardon. You're your cousin—I mean, the other Miss Dennison—and, of course, I haven't seen you before."

Then, recovering from his confusion before the young lady could speak, he added:

"I hope I'm not too late to get a dance, Miss Dennison?"

Having secured this, he sought the other Isabel.

"Why in the fiend's name do they dress alike?" he muttered in nervous fear of another mistake. He might be continually coming across the one he didn't want, like a recurring decimal.

Several times he bore down on a fair girl in blue and white, but turned away, deciding that he had only come on an Isabel in another place. The lancers had begun. It was in full swing before he came suddenly on a sofa where sat the Isabel.

"Miss Dennison," he stammered, "I'm so sorry!"

"Pray don't apologize," said she coldly. "I assure you the delay is not of the slightest moment."

"Indeed, it was quite unintentional," said the unfortunate Charlie in despair. "I have been looking for you!"

"I have been sitting here the last ten minutes, and you passed me just now."

"I saw a blue and white dress," acknowledged Charlie, "but some people came between it and me. Won't you forgive me and dance this? It isn't too late."

"I think my mother wants me," said Isabel, rising with dignity.

"May I take you to her?"

"No, thank you."

Charlie only got pardoned when everybody was going. He was mad with himself, but could not bring himself to acknowledge the real reason of his apparent neglect. He was sensitive about these constant mistakes. They went on happening, of course, the one Isabel laughing at him, which he dreaded, the other turning haughty and offended. He offered some flowers to a Dennison girl one day and she said demurely, "Are you sure they were meant for me?"

"Whom else could they be meant for?" said Charlie sentimentally.

"My cousin, perhaps—she's over there," said the girl merrily. Dacre flushed in unutterable confusion and took back the flowers, scarcely knowing what he did. And when he turned away he met the scornful eyes of a girl who must be the Isabel he wanted because the girl he had left wasn't she. It was quite impossible to present the flowers, and he made a crestfallen escape as soon as he could.

"Hang it, I'll end all this!" he said angrily one day. "But I shall have to be careful, if I am happily successful, that I marry the right girl. It would be awfully awkward if I didn't."

His opportunity seemed thrown into his hands, for he was invited to spend a week at a country house where the Isabel was also going with her mother. He sat next her at dinner, and to his great delight saw no other Isabel.

"We shall be a larger party tomorrow," said the young lady. "My cousins are coming."

"The—Dennisons?" Charlie almost gasped.

"Not all of them—only Isabel and Lucy."

This was comforting. And both Isabels had such an odious habit of dressing in the same colors! Why didn't they wear different colored ribbons, like French twins?

He got along fairly well, with great care and caution. One evening he saw Isabel Dennison entering the library. He knew it was his one because she had on a gray dress, whereas her cousin had worn a green one during the day. It was too dark to see her features. He followed her into the room.

"The nicest time for a chat," he said, and she made a movement as if to leave the room, flitting toward a farther door.

"Yes, but I'm afraid I can't stay," she said. "I only came to fetch something I left here."

"Well—but don't go—stay a minute," said Dacre entreatingly. He had no doubt at all about his accuracy as to identity. Her desire to escape from him was a sure proof, let alone others, for it was precisely the desire she had shown in the last few days, and which he took as a favorable sign. "Miss Dennison—Isabel—am I mistaken in thinking—in hoping—you know—you surely must know that I love you!"

The girl had stood still for a second, while Charlie rushed on with his declaration, but she interrupted him hastily: "Indeed, Mr. Dacre, I'm afraid!"

"Don't say that," said Charlie, going nearer. "All those weeks in town—down here, when we have been thrown so much together—I surely have not misunderstood!"

A stifled sound came from the dim figure before him, whether laugh or what he could not tell, but he suddenly started back, and in so doing came face to face with another Isabel in a gray dress.

If the earth had opened and swallowed him, Charlie would have been thankful. This was the crowning disaster. Neither Isabel stirred. Which, in heaven's name, was which? To whom had he proposed? How should he ever know he had got the right Isabel?

He recognized after the first wild movement that he must save the situation. He approached the newcomer, who eyed him disdainfully.

"Miss Dennison—Isabel," he began.

"Which Miss Dennison do you intend to address, Mr. Dacre?" she demanded stiffly.

"How the deuce should I know? It is nearly dark, and you both evade me."

"You had better pursue your conversation with the lady you seem to recognize best, and I will retire."

The other Isabel sprang forward.

"Don't be a goose, cousin," said she, half laughing, "and you, Mr. Dacre, wait a minute. You know very well, Isabel, it's all a mistake, and I'd have interrupted Mr. Dacre before only he was so impetuous I had no time. He didn't mean me at all!"

"Mr. Dacre doesn't seem to know whom he means," said the offended Isabel.

"I know very well when I can see them," murmured Charlie, nearly crushed. "Here goes for a light."

But when a blaze of light illumined the room only one Isabel remained. Dacre took her hand.

"You are the one," he said.

"Are you quite sure?" she asked archly.

"Ah, that's cruel! Of course I am. What will you say to me, Isabel—forgive me and!"

"Love you," whispered Isabel.

"I hope it's the right one," said Ballantyne when the marriage ceremony was over, "but upon my word he was almost taking the bridesmaid's hand instead of the bride's."—London Star.

How He Became a Cynic.

Some lovable traits of character in Prosper Merimee, the famous French novelist, who has left to posterity the reputation of a misanthrope and a cynic, are revealed in the pages of Augustus Filon's "Merimee and His Friends."

M. Filon tells us how this celebrated author devoted 100 hours of his salary as senator toward pensioning an old prefect of Louis Philippe who had been ruined by the revolution of 1848, and how for 20 years he assisted and protected a humble sculptor in whom he had become interested.

M. Filon relates an incident of Merimee's childhood that shows how susceptible his nature was to strong impressions, and how responsible older people, and particularly parents, are for the development of certain traits in children.

When the future novelist was 5 years of age, he was once punished by his mother for some naughtiness of which he was guilty. Mme. Merimee, who was an artist, and who was at the time engaged at her easel, put the culprit out of the room and closed the door upon him.

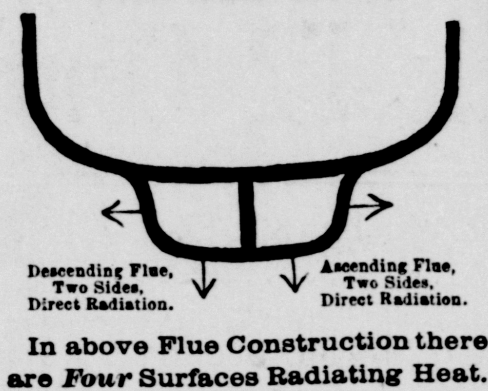

The little Prosper, already penitent, anxiously besought forgiveness through the closed door, expressing great contrition and promising good behavior, but the door remained inexorably shut. Finally, after much effort, he opened it and dragged himself upon his knees toward his mother. His piteous supplications and his pathetic attitude so amused Mme. Merimee that she began to laugh.

Instantly rising from his lowly posture he exclaimed indignantly, "Since you mock me I will never ask pardon again." He kept his word. Thus was sown the seed of a certain cynical philosophy that tainted his after life.

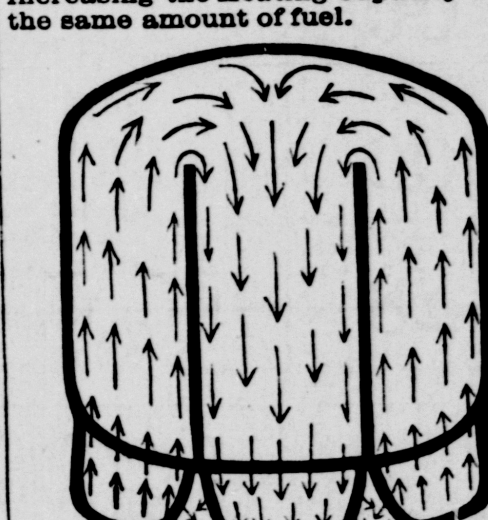

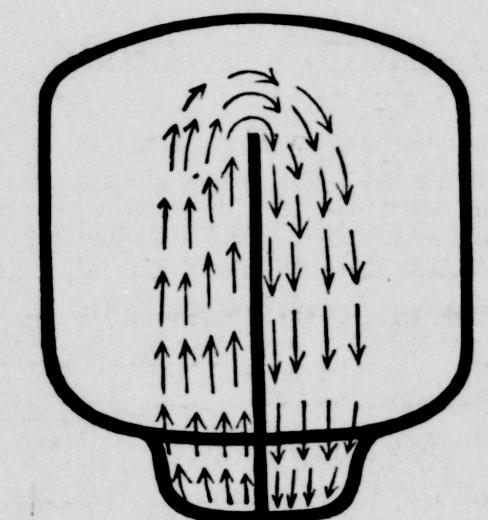

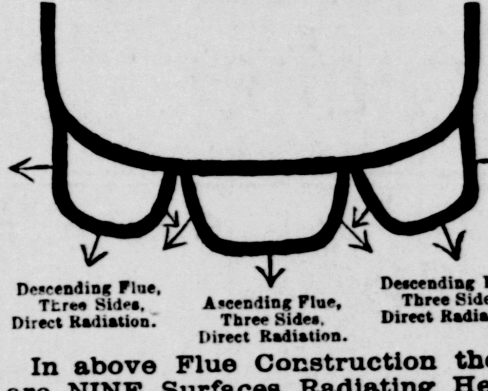

WHY FAVORITE STOVES SAVE COAL

THE arrangement of radiating surfaces is unique. The hot air is utilized in the house—is not forced up the chimney until it has done its work. If you will study the flue construction as shown below you will readily see why it is that the FAVORITE Base Burner will throw out more heat with the same coal than any other Base Burner.

THE OLD WAY.

THE NEW WAY.

Above cut illustrates the arrangement of Bottom Flues in nearly all base burners, showing the Heat is not Equally Distributed.

The above Bottom Flue Construction causes the Heat to go to the Outer Surfaces, Largely increasing the Heating Capacity and Economizing in Fuel.

The "Favorite" Base Burner has More Heating Capacity and is the Most Economical Stove ever made. Why? Because it has about 1/4 more Radiating Surface as compared with same sizes of other base burners, and is Mounted and Fitted Perfectly.

A Little More Cost Brings Big Profits.

The addressing, folding, inclosing, sealing and stamping of five thousand circulars, with postage, will cost at least $65, whether the circular is good or bad. Notwithstanding this fixed charge, some strive to save a dollar or two on the cost of printing, although the goods advertised are to be judged by the character of the printing, just as a house is judged by the character of its salesmen. Good printing costs but little more, and that "little more" brings greater returns than any other part of the cost. Order your printing where good work is assured.
